To Whom It May Concern:

Kamylon Capital is a principal investment firm based in Boston, which manages more than a billion dollars of capital. We invest in businesses from $10 million to $500+ million in revenue across many industries.

Kamylon initially approached The Plum Tree Group to redesign the firm's website. We were impressed with their portfolio and technical abilities. The scope of work quickly expanded to include a larger more complex project of building an enterprise level project management and collaboration application using sharepoint and a new website and marketing materials for one of our portfolio companies.

Plum Tree worked well with our team and was able to deliver well designed solutions at competitive prices that exceeded our expectations for all three projects. They have a skilled team that works well together and demonstrated the professionalism and technical expertise needed to meet our needs.

Having worked with a number of vendors in the past as well as having familiarity with several out-of-the-box project management solutions, we are happy to recommend The Plum Tree Group for similar projects that require business and technological expertise, good customer service, and competitive pricing to achieve a successful outcome.

Sincerely,

Richard Spencer
